

The “production quality” ATA software and support is available free of cost to customers.
The software architecture is below:

The “drop-in” VoIP ATA software can be further customized. Support will be provided.
Please contact your local
Sales Representative for more information.