MICREL®

Innovation Through Technology®

The SIP software and support is available free of cost to customers. The software architecture is below:

The "drop-in" SIP software can be further customized. Support will be provided. Please contact your local Sales Representative for more information.

ODMs and System Integrators have ported their SIP software onto the Micrel platform in the past by using Micrel drivers and integration software and services. Extensive documentation is also available for this porting.
